

National Cable Specialists earns Great Place to Work® designation

We are pleased to announce that National Cable Specialists has been certified as a Great Place to Work® (GPTW), a globally-recognized accreditation that is awarded to organizations that have achieved the highest standard of workplace culture.

Staff participated in the confidential GPTW's Trust Index Survey, which measures workplace culture, employee experience and leadership qualities. National Cable Specialists employees appraised the company as a positive workplace and feel a general sense of pride, respect, equality and camaraderie.

Our company culture has always prided itself on the belief that in order to provide the best customer service experience, it is essential that we attract and retain top talent while fostering a positive work environment. This certification clearly demonstrates that our formula is working and that National Cable Specialists is indeed a Great Place to Work.
